Bills and Reports of Select Committees on Bills

PARLIAMENT OF INDIA

The following Bill was introduced in Parliament on the 12th May, 1951:—

BILL No. 48 OF 1951

A Bill to amend the Constitution of India

BE it enacted by Parliament as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Constitution (First Amendment) Act, 1951.

2. Amendment of article 15.—In clause (3) of article 15 of the Constitution, after the word “children”, the words “or for the educational, economic or social advancement of any backward class of citizens” shall be added.

3. Amendment of article 19 and validation of certain laws.—(1) In article 19 of the Constitution,—

(a) for clause (2), the following clause shall be substituted, and the said clause shall be deemed to have been originally enacted in the following form, namely:—

“(2) Nothing in sub-clause (a) of clause (1) shall affect the operation of any existing law in so far as it imposes, or prevent the State from making any law imposing, in the interests of the security of the State, friendly relations with foreign States, public order, decency or morality, restrictions on the exercise of the right conferred by the said sub-clause, and, in particular, nothing in the said sub-clause shall affect the operation of any existing law in so far as it relates to, or prevent the State from making any law relating to, contempt of court, defamation or incitement to an offence.”;

(b) in clause (6), for the words beginning with the words "nothing in the said sub-clause" and ending with the words "occupation, trade or business", the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"nothing in the said sub-clause shall affect the operation of any existing law in so far as it relates to, or prevent the State from making any law relating to,—

(i) the professional or technical qualifications necessary for practising any profession or carrying on any occupation, trade or business, or

(ii) the carrying on by the State, or by a corporation owned or controlled by the State, of any trade, business, industry or service, whether to the exclusion, complete or partial, of citizens or otherwise."

(2) No law in force in the territory of India immediately before the commencement of the Constitution which is consistent with the provisions of article 19 of the Constitution as amended by sub-section (1) of this section shall be deemed to be void, or ever to have become void, on the ground only that, being a law which takes away or abridges the right conferred by sub-clause (a) of clause (1) of the said article, its operation was not saved by sub-clause (2) of that article as originally enacted, and notwithstanding any judgment, decree or order of any court or tribunal to the contrary, every such law shall continue in force until altered or repealed by a competent Legislature or other competent authority.

Explanation.—In this sub-section, the expression "law in force" has the same meaning as in clause (1) of article 18 of the Constitution.

4. Insertion of new article 31A.—After article 31 of the Constitution, the following article shall be inserted, and shall be deemed always to have been inserted, namely:—

"31A. Saving of laws providing for acquisition of estates, etc.—

(1) Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing provisions of this Part, no law providing for the acquisition by the State of any estate or of any rights therein or for the extinguishment or modification of any such rights shall be deemed to be void on the ground that it is inconsistent with, or takes away or abridges any of the rights conferred by, any provisions of this Part.

(2) In this article,—

(a) the expression "estate" shall, in relation to any local area, have the same meaning as in the existing law relating to land tenures in force in that area;

(b) the expression "rights", in relation to an estate, shall include any rights vesting in a proprietor, sub-proprietor, under-proprietor, tenure-holder or other intermediary and any rights or privileges in respect of land revenue."

5. Insertion of new article 31B.—After article 31A of the Constitution as inserted by section 4, the following article shall be inserted, namely:—

'31B. Validation of certain Acts.—Without prejudice to the generality of the provisions contained in article 31A, none of the Acts specified in the Ninth Schedule nor any of the provisions thereof shall be deemed to be void, or ever to have become void, on the ground that such Act or provision is inconsistent with, or takes away or abridges any of the rights conferred by, any provisions of this Part, and notwithstanding any judgment, decree or order of any court or tribunal to the contrary, each of the said Acts shall continue in force until altered or repealed by a competent Legislature."

6. Amendment of article 85.—For article 85 of the Constitution, the following article shall be substituted, namely:—

"85. Sessions of Parliament, prorogation and dissolution.—(1) The President shall from time to time summon each House of Parliament to meet at such time and place as he thinks fit, but six months shall not intervene between its last sitting in one session and the date appointed for its first sitting in the next session.

(2) The President may from time to time—

(a) prorogue the House or either House;

(b) dissolve the House of the People."

7. Amendment of article 87.—In article 87 of the Constitution,—

(1) in clause (1), for the words "every session" the words "the first session of each year" shall be substituted;

(2) in clause (2), the words "and for the precedence of such discussion over other business of the House" shall be omitted.

8. Amendment of article 174.—For article 174 of the Constitution, the following article shall be substituted, namely:—

"174. Sessions of the State Legislature, prorogation and dissolution.—(1) The Governor shall from time to time summon the House or each House of the Legislature of the State to meet at such time and place as he thinks fit, but six months shall not intervene between its last sitting in one session and the date appointed for its first sitting in the next session.

(2) The Governor may from time to time—

(a) prorogue the House or either House;

(b) dissolve the Legislative Assembly."

9. Amendment of article 176.—In article 176 of the Constitution,—

(1) in clause (1), for the words "every session" the words "the first session of each year" shall be substituted;

(2) in clause (2), the words "and for the precedence of such discussion over other business of the House" shall be omitted.

10. Amendment of article 341.—In clause (1) of article 341 of the Constitution, for the words “may, after consultation with the Governor or Rajpramukh of a State,” the words “may with respect to any State, and where it is a State specified in Part A or Part B of the First Schedule, after consultation with the Governor or Rajpramukh thereof,” shall be substituted.

11. Amendment of article 342.—In clause (1) of article 342 of the Constitution, for the words “may, after consultation with the Governor or Rajpramukh of a State,” the words “may with respect to any State, and where it is a State specified in Part A or Part B of the First Schedule, after consultation with the Governor or Rajpramukh thereof,” shall be substituted.

12. Amendment of article 372.—In sub-clause (a) of clause (3) of article 372 of the Constitution, for the words “two years” the words “three years” shall be substituted.

13. Amendment of article 376.—At the end of clause (1) of article 376 of the Constitution, the following shall be added, namely:—

“Any such Judge shall, notwithstanding that he is not a citizen of India, be eligible for appointment as Chief Justice of such High Court, or as Chief Justice or other Judge of any other High Court or of the Supreme Court.”

14. Addition of Ninth Schedule.—After the Eighth Schedule to the Constitution, the following Schedule shall be added, namely:—

“NINTH SCHEDULE

[Article 31B]

1. The Bihar Land Reforms Act, 1950 (Bihar Act XXX of 1950).
2. The Bombay Tenancy and Agricultural Lands Act, 1948 (Bombay Act LXVII of 1948).
3. The Bombay Maleki Tenure Abolition Act, 1949 (Bombay Act LXI of 1949).
4. The Bombay Taluqdari Tenure Abolition Act, 1949 (Bombay Act LXII of 1949).
5. The Panch Mahals Mehwasai Tenure Abolition Act, 1949 (Bombay Act LXIIF of 1949).
6. The Bombay Khoti Abolition Act, 1950 (Bombay Act VI of 1950).
7. The Bombay Paragana and Kulkarni Watan Abolition Act, 1950 (Bombay Act LX of 1950).
8. The Madhya Pradesh Abolition of Proprietary Rights (Estates, Mahals, Alienated Lands) Act, 1950 (Madhya Pradesh Act I of 1951).
9. The Madras Estates (Abolition and Conversion into Ryotwari) Act, 1948 (Madras Act XXVI of 1948).

10. The Madras Estates (Abolition and Conversion into Ryotwari) Amendment Act, 1950 (Madras Act I of 1950).
11. The Uttar Pradesh Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 1950 (Uttar Pradesh Act I of 1951)."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

During the last fifteen months of the working of the Constitution, certain difficulties have been brought to light by judicial decisions and pronouncements specially in regard to the chapter on fundamental rights. The citizen's right to freedom of speech and expression guaranteed by article 19(1)(a) has been held by some courts to be so comprehensive as not to render a person culpable even if he advocates murder and other crimes of violence. In other countries with written constitutions, freedom of speech and of the press is not regarded as debarring the State from punishing or preventing abuse of this freedom. The citizen's right to practise any profession or to carry on any occupation, trade or business conferred by article 19(1)(g) is subject to reasonable restrictions which the laws of the State may impose "in the interests of the general public". While the words cited are comprehensive enough to cover any scheme of nationalisation which the State may undertake, it is desirable to place the matter beyond doubt by a clarificatory addition to article 19(6). Another article in regard to which unanticipated difficulties have arisen is article 31. The validity of agrarian reform measures passed by the State Legislatures in the last three years has, in spite of the provisions of clauses (4) and (6) of article 31, formed the subject-matter of dilatory litigation, as a result of which the implementation of these important measures, affecting large numbers of people, has been held up.

The main objects of this Bill are, accordingly, to amend article 19 for the purposes indicated above and to insert provisions fully securing the constitutional validity of zamindari abolition laws in general and certain specified State Acts in particular. The opportunity has been taken to propose a few minor amendments to other articles in order to remove difficulties that may arise.

It is laid down in article 46 as a directive principle of State policy that the State should promote with special care the educational and economic interests of the weaker sections of the people and protect them from social injustice. In order that any special provision that the State may make for the educational, economic or social advancement of any backward class of citizens may not be challenged on the ground of being discriminatory, it is proposed that article 15(3) should be suitably amplified. Certain amendments in respect of articles dealing with the convening and proroguing of the sessions of Parliament have been found necessary and are also incorporated in this Bill. So also a few minor amendments in respect of articles 341, 342, 372 and 376.

NEW DELHI;

The 10th May, 1951.

The following Bill was introduced in Parliament on the 15th May, 1951:—

BILL *No. 49 OF 1951

A Bill to alter the boundaries of the State of Assam consequent on the cession of a strip of territory comprised in that State to the Government of Bhutan.

BE it enacted by Parliament as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Assam (Alteration of Boundaries) Act, 1951.

2. Alteration of the boundaries of Assam.—On and from the commencement of this Act, the territory of the State of Assam shall cease to comprise the strip of territory specified in the Schedule, and the boundaries of the State of Assam shall be deemed to have been altered accordingly.

3. Amendment of the First Schedule to the Constitution.—In the first paragraph of Part A of the First Schedule to the Constitution, under the heading "TERRITORIES OF STATES", after the words "Assam Tribal Areas", the following words shall be inserted, namely:—

"but shall not include the territories specified in the Schedule to the Assam (Alteration of Boundaries) Act, 1951."

THE SCHEDULE

(See section 2)

The strip of territory measuring 92·81 square miles lying to the south of Bhutan within 26°45' and 27° North Latitude and 91°15' and 91°45' East Longitude, demarcated on the west, north and east by boundary pillars Nos. 90, 91, 92, 93 and 94 erected in 1930-31, and on the south by boundary pillars Nos. 90, 91, 92, 93 and 94 erected in 1950.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

By Article 4 of the Indo-Bhutan Treaty of Friendship concluded on the 8th August, 1949, and subsequently ratified, the Government of India undertook to cede to the Government of Bhutan a strip of territory measuring 92·81 square miles known as Dewangiri on the border of Kamrup district in the State of Assam. The territory had not been surveyed or demarcated and it could not, therefore, be handed over to Bhutan immediately. Under the provisions of article 3 of the Constitution which came into force subsequently, the implementation of this undertaking requires an Act of Parliament.

Since it involves diminishing the area and altering the boundaries of Assam, the views of the Legislature of that State with respect to the proposal to introduce a Bill for this purpose and the provisions thereof have been ascertained in accordance with the proviso to article 3 of the Constitution. At its meeting held on the 27th March, 1951 the Legislative Assembly of Assam adopted the following resolution:—

“The House recommends to the President of the Indian Union the transfer of about 82 square miles of territory in the Dewangiri hill block to the Bhutan Government as in the Schedule below in pursuance of the Treaty of Darjeeling of 8th August, 1949.”

This Bill is designed to effect the transfer in accordance with the Constitution.
